MICHAELMAS TERM 2016

3 50 years ago, in the early days of September 1666, seven eighths of London was a smouldering wasteland. Much of the Inner Temple was also in ruins, but thanks to the quick thinking of our Royal Bencher, HRH The Duke of York, the Temple Church and the Hall were saved – the latter by the actions of one of the sailors in his party, who ascended to the roof and beat out the fire which had started to catch there.

In August 2016, as part of the events to commemorate the 350th anniversary of the Great Fire of London the Middle Temple kindly lent us their portrait of James II (as Duke of York), to hang in Hall for the Michaelmas term. Curiously we do not have one. In fact, the portrait, attributed to John Riley, was on its way back to the Middle Temple from the restorers and our portrait of James's daughter, Queen Anne, requires restoration work and therefore space in Hall could be made for him. It seemed apt to have the Duke present at our commemoration of the Great Fire of London.

To mark the events of 1666, the Inner Temple suggested to the Temple Music Foundation that it should commission a chamber opera to be performed in the Temple Church on the 27, 28 and 29 October 2016. Master Salter has taken the lead for the Inn and has put together a remarkable team which includes the composer Matt Rogers, whose recent opera The Virtues of Things was premiered at the Royal Opera House's Linbury Theatre, and Sinéad O'Neill who heads the production team. Sinéad is a familiar face on the production side at Glyndebourne. The conductor will be Christopher Stark (who made his BBC Proms debut this summer) and the musicians will include the Organist and Director of Music of the Temple Church, Roger Sayer. A Gala Dinner will be held in Hall, beneath the gaze of The Duke of York. The commission and production have been made possible by generous sponsorship from JM Finn & Co, from many Benchers and from supporters of the Temple Music Foundation.

Tickets for the opera and the Gala Dinner on 27 October are now on sale and may be bought on line at <https://www.templemusic.org/shop/and-london-burned-performance1/>

Members of the Inn will know that the Hall which the Duke is now looking down upon is not the one he saved, or indeed, the one that replaced it. The Victorians replaced the medieval Hall and the Victorian Hall in turn was destroyed 75 years ago this year in the Blitz.

On Wednesday 30 November and Thursday 1 December, Master Shields, the Master of Revels, will be putting on a special production in Hall entitled, From Blaze to Blitz: A Celebration of the Inn's Survival, to mark these events. He is being assisted by Tom Kinninmont, the theatre and film director with whom he has worked on other productions for the Inn. It is coming in the last few weeks of my time as Treasurer and it will be Master Shield's 'swan song' - as Master of Revels. I dare say that it will result in both of us going out with a bang.

I am conscious that I have been writing about activities which reflect the broader collegiate life of the Inn and not directly its core remit, but it has ever been a characteristic of the Inns that they celebrate their heritage and promote a sense of community and collegiality in a way unique to the Bar of England and Wales. That collegiate function never fails to impress me and it continues to evolve and develop. I have written extensively about it in this year's Yearbook, which is about to be published and, whilst there is much that merits repeating about the Inn's current work on education and training and in promoting diversity, I shall confine my comments here to one aspect of the work which will be going on in the Inn this term; the development of our new website.

A working group headed by Master Agnello has been conducting an extremely thorough study of the Inn's communications, not only with its members, but also its potential members and the wider world in general. A comprehensive scoping study has shown that there is much that needs to be done to bring the Inn's communication strategies fully up to date. It is essential that our IT presence reflects the fact that we are a forward-looking organisation and that we are committed to providing services to our students and members. For example, our outstanding work in education and training must be promoted online in the best way possible, as must our world class library services. I am pleased to say that the work is underway and the first results should be seen by the end of this term, with the new website being launched in mid-2017. Changes such as this cannot be achieved without a great deal of work and, as with so much that is done by the Benchers and barristers of the Inn, it is done completely pro bono. It reflects the belief of the profession, at all levels, in the importance of the role of the Inn in promoting a strong and independent Bar which is essential to the administration of justice in this country.

EDUCATION & TRAINING

STUDENT TRAINING AND SUPPORT

We are looking forward to welcoming our new BPTC student members to the Inn at Introductory events in September. Students will be given information on the Inn's qualifying sessions including expert lectures, advocacy training, student residential conferences and presentational skills sessions, all of which are designed to complement students' BPTC training and allow students to meet with and learn from practising barristers and judges.

This year's student residential conferences will focus on the following topics:

Hearsay -

Cumberland Lodge, December 2016

Punishment, Prisons & Prisoners -

Highgate House, February 2017

Law at the End of Life -

Cumberland Lodge, May 2017

Our new students will also receive details on the support schemes we offer including marshalling, mentoring, mock interviews and police liaison. They will also hear from the Presidents of the four Inner Temple Societies (ITSA, Mooting, Debating and Drama) about how they can become involved in the Societies' activities.

The Education & Training team would like to take this opportunity to welcome our new BPTC students – we look forward to working with you this year and in the future.

ACT AS A WITNESS IN ADVOCACY TRAINING

The Education & Training Team is recruiting BPTC students to act as witnesses in our mock trials for pupils. As well as gaining a qualifying session (when attending two separate mock trials), this is a great opportunity to take part in the Inn's advocacy training programme for pupils. We are currently recruiting for the following dates in 2016:

Thursday 15 November

Monday 21 November

Wednesday 23 November

Monday 28 November

All the mock trials will take place at the Royal Courts of Justice from 5.30pm to 7.30pm. Further sessions will be available in February 2017.

To register your interest, or for further information, please contact Kerry Upham or David Miller.

GET INVOLVED WITH OUTREACH!

The Inn’s outreach programme would not be possible without the support of the many members who give up their time to volunteer at events. If you would like to be involved in the Inn’s outreach work, including any of the forthcoming events listed below, then please contact Struan Campbell or Lacara Barnes-Rowe.

POLICE LIAISON SCHEME!

The Police Liaison Scheme aims to promote good relations between the Bar and the Police Service. The scheme allows BPTC students to visit police stations in one of four participating London boroughs and to accompany officers on patrol or in the CID Department. The scheme has helped many students interested in a career at the criminal Bar to become familiar with police station procedures and the way in which incidents are dealt with. BPTC students participating in this year’s Inner Temple Police Liaison Scheme will begin their visits to police stations in October 2016. Visits will be arranged throughout the academic year. The scheme is a reciprocal one, with further events organised to give police officers a greater understanding of the work of barristers and judges. This includes a mock trial each year.

If you are interested in helping out or in finding out more about the scheme, please contact Lacara Barnes-Rowe.

MENTORING SCHEME

The Mentoring Scheme aims to provide students with advice, guidance and a point of contact during their initial stages of becoming a barrister. Mentors are allocated at the beginning of the academic year and demand is always very high. This year is no exception so we are in need of more volunteers. If you are a barrister of 5 years' Call or more and would like to help out or would like some further information, then please contact Georgina Everatt.

MARSHALLING SCHEME

The Marshalling Scheme is run for the benefit of current BPTC students. Feedback from the students has shown that it has helped increase their understanding of the judiciary system and provide them a new perspective on being both a barrister and a judge. Marshalling placements are allocated throughout the year and it is always a popular scheme for the students. As always we would welcome interest from judges around the country to help increase the number of opportunities we can provide for the Inn's newest members. If you are a judge and would be willing to have a student sit with you for one to five days, or if you would like further information on the scheme, please contact Kerry Upham.

QUESTION & ANSWER DAY

The Inn's annual Question & Answer Day for students interested in a career at the Bar took place on Sunday 21 June. The day was a huge success with students attending from a wide range of universities. The day was opened by Francesca O'Neill (1 Chancery Lane and a Major Scholar of the Inn) who provided a detailed and useful view of life at the Bar. The event provided an insight into different areas of practice and life as a junior practitioner as well as an opportunity for students to gain valuable advice on pupillage applications and interviews. This was followed by a reception where students were able to meet and speak informally with members of the Inn. Thanks go to all the members of the junior Bar who volunteered at this event.

SUMMER SHAKESPEARE 2016 BENJAMIEN SMOLDERS, DRAMA SOCIETY

Last summer, thespians around the globe commemorated the 400th anniversary of the passing of William Shakespeare, the Bard whose stories have inspired many and brought joy to more. Our very own Drama Society decided to honour Bill with the piece that probably most reflects his own personality, The Tempest. The Tempest was one of Shakespeare's last works and it is the play in which - for those willing to read between the lines - he thanks his faithful audience and says goodbye to the world of the theatre. For two months (one month per performance) our actors toiled away at learning their lines, blocking the scenes and coming up with inventive ways to breathe fresh air into a play that has been a classic for over four centuries.

The play was re-imagined as an ode to three great traditions of theatre. English Elizabethan style for the shipwrecked Neapolitan nobles, Italian commedia dell'arte tomfoolery for Stephano and Trinculo and a hint of kabuki etherealness for the dwellers and spirits of the island. Cavalry swords were rented from the National Theatre, masks were ordered from artisanal craftsmen in Venice and kimonos and haoris were flown in from Japan. After turning Ariel into a kabuki stagehand, training Stephano and Trinculo to act with half their faces covered by masks, and providing a period-appropriate codpiece for Ferdinand, the Society set out to perform Shakespeare's last hurrah on two sweltering nights in mid-July.

As the applause died down and the cast retreated to the air conditioned shelter of Mitre Court, they all looked at each other and said "now our revels have ended... next up, the Christmas Pantomime!"

INTER INN MOOTING SUCCESS... MEREDITH MAJOR, MOOTING SOCIETY PRESIDENT 2015-16

The Inter-Inn Mooting Competition Shield is once again in Inner Temple hands following victory in the final of the event on Tuesday 19 July 2016, held at Gray's Inn. Our team, comprising Nick Grant (Lawson Competition winner) and Alex Du Sautoy (Lawson finalist), won favour over the Middle Temple team with the hugely distinguished judging panel of Sir John Mummery, Lord Hodge, Master Hughes and Sir Colin Rimer. Thanks must go to the Ecclesiastical Law Society for their sponsorship of the event and for providing a fascinating problem concerning an application to exhume the body of the mistress of a famous Victorian poet. The Inner Temple team appealed a decision not to grant a faculty of exhumation, hoping to retrieve a book of poems believed to have been buried with the woman, and to collect DNA to establish the lineage of the appellant. On the law, it was the respondent who prevailed by a majority decision but it was our team's advocacy which secured prizes of £250 each, kindly donated by the ELS, and for the Inn the honour of hosting next year's event.

...AND INTER INN DEBATING SUCCESS ROBERT GADD, DEBATING SOCIETY PRESIDENT 2015-2016

Despite winning the Inter-Inn Debate more times than every other Inn combined, Inner Temple still had everything to prove. Gray's Inn won the last competition in 2014, introducing a new format for 2016 requiring greater demonstration of teamwork, strategy and addressing audience participation. Representing Inner Temple, Nisha Sundra Rajoo, Gayan Samarasinghe, Jake Armes and Oliver May provided proof of all these attributes in abundance.

As veterans of the Rawlinson Cup, our Inter-Inn team received feedback from Master Treasurer, Master Hodge, and generously detailed advice from Joanne Moss. Not to be outdone by the Benchers, Alex Maunders, Turkel Karimli, Emma Lui, Preetika Mathur, Liam Hunter and Charles Fulton assisted preparations for both rounds, donating their time and insight as the unsung architects of Inner's ultimate victory.

At the 7 July semi-final, Inner Temple triumphed over Middle, opposing the motion, 'This House would criminalise politicians knowingly or recklessly misleading the public during elections and referenda.' Former Inner Temple Debating President Gareth Davies judged Gray's Inn the winner over Lincoln's Inn on the same motion. At the 14 July final, Inner Temple challenged the defending champions on their home ground, proposing the motion, 'This House supports a federalised UK with a written constitution.' Polls conducted before and after the final revealed the number of audience members in favour of the motion doubled during the debate. In his judgment, the former Lincoln's Inn Debating Secretary added himself to the converted, awarding Inner Temple its third Inter-Inn Debate win out of four competitions held.

PEGASUS SCHOLARSHIPS

Applications for the 2017 Pegasus Scholarships will open in early October and the closing date is 30 November 2016. Scholarships are available to tenants or employed barristers (of all four Inns) who have practised as a barrister for up to five years (not including pupillage). This is an opportunity to spend six to twelve weeks in another jurisdiction seeing how its legal system works as well as making new friends and (possibly) escaping the worst of the British weather. For an application form please access the Pegasus web pages via the Inner Temple website.

This summer we welcomed four incoming overseas scholars who had just completed their LLM degrees at the University of Cambridge. The scholars worked in various chambers and also visited the Royal Courts of Justice, the Old Bailey and the Supreme Court.

CALLING ALL PUPILS!

The compulsory advocacy course for pupils will begin in October 2016. If you have not yet registered your pupillage with the Inn please contact David Miller as soon as possible. Even if you are not due to start pupillage until spring 2017, you must attend an advocacy course before then, so please register your details.

Failure to do so could result in you not being issued with a practising certificate.

The Practice Management Course will be held on Saturday 14 January 2017. This course is compulsory and information will be sent to pupils at the same time as the advocacy course dates.

PUPILLAGE MATCHED FUNDING SCHEME

NATHALIE LIEVEN QC,
CHAIR, COIC PUPILLAGE MATCHED
FUNDING GRANTS COMMITTEE

2016 marks the fourth round of the Pupillage Matched Funding Scheme. The Scheme was launched in 2013 to assist students obtain pupillage and qualify as barristers. The process operates by providing additional pupillages in chambers and other approved training organisations where their work is predominantly publicly funded. The four Inns of Court match pupillage funding already provided by chambers with a grant of £6,000 to fund the first six months of a second pupillage. Alternatively a grant of £3,000 may be made where chambers only wish to take on one pupil. The first round of the Pupillage Matched Funding Scheme supported pupillages beginning in 2014 and finishing in 2015. During this round 14 pupillages were supported either fully or partially in 12 sets; it is estimated that of the pupillages supported up to 12 pupils were offered tenancy. It is not possible to be precise about the pupillage to tenancy ratio as no individual is identified in chambers as a matched funded pupil. The scheme has grown, with 41 grants being awarded for pupillages in 2015 and 44 in 2016; this was the first occasion that demand exceeded supply of funds.

Applications to match fund 2017-18 pupillages and 2018-19 pupillages are invited between 1 September 2016 and 19 October 2016. Note this deadline is earlier than in previous years to accommodate the new Pupillage Gateway timetable. Decisions will be communicated the week commencing 7 November. The online application system can be accessed via the Council of the Inns of Court website: www.coic.org.uk/pupillage-matched-funding

The 'COIC Grants Committee' considers the applications on behalf of the Inns and decides which applicant approved training organisations are to receive a grant. Please email Hayley Dawes, COIC Secretary (hdawes@coic.org.uk) should you have any further queries in relation to the scheme.

BARRISTERS FROM TWO SETS OF CHAMBERS EXPLAIN THE DIFFERENCE THE PUPILLAGE MATCHED FUNDING SCHEME HAS MADE:

ESTHER HARRISON
HEAD OF PUPILLAGE
AT 1 HIGH PAVEMENT
CHAMBERS,
NOTTINGHAM

As a chambers our practice area is Criminal law. These are challenging times for publicly funded work. Yet the need for good quality representation for the prosecution and the defence, is greater than ever. Historically, we have had two pupils each year, but in recent years, we have felt reluctant to take on anyone, not least due to costs.

The Pupillage Matched Funding Scheme has been crucial in enabling us to take one at least one pupil in each year (2014 and 2015) and has led us this year to recruit four pupils over the next two years. We have been amply rewarded with successful second six pupils and junior tenants. We believe there is a future for the Criminal Bar and our chambers. This scheme has encouraged and supported us as we seek to invest in both.

The Council of the Inns of Court

KATE LUMSDON
23 ESSEX STREET

2013 was a year of potential crisis for the Criminal Bar, its very existence threatened by the proposals in the consultation launched by the then Justice Secretary, Chris Grayling MP. Confronted by the prospect of further fee cuts and the inexorable rise in numbers of solicitor advocates, 23 Essex Street decided we needed to take some clear steps to reduce our costs. Sadly, one of the most obvious cuts we could make was to reduce the number of pupillages we would offer that year from 2 to 1. Our pupillage award is £25,000 and each pupillage is a serious financial commitment. None of us wanted to take this step, but it was a reflection of a profound concern about the future and illustrated how cuts in fees directly affects the future and sustainability of the publicly funded criminal bar.

In recent years our preference has always been to have two pupils – it is better for them and for us. They are then better able share what is an exciting but challenging year and provide one another with support. Our pupil advocacy training scheme is constructed around our having two pupils, with occasional Royal Navy pupils and third sixers joining in.

The COIC pupillage match funding scheme has allowed me to apply to the COIC to seek a grant towards the cost of a second pupillage. Our Management Committee agreed in principle that if we received an award they would be inclined to reinstate the second pupillage. I was delighted when COIC granted our application. The award of £6,000 goes only part way towards the pupillage award, but it makes a significant difference.

This year we are interviewing for two pupils, and have already seen many promising candidates. We are very grateful to COIC for making this possible.

HAYLEY DAWES
COIC SECRETARY

The Council of the Inns of Court is pleased to announce the launch of the next round of the Pupillage Matched Funding Scheme. Applications to match fund 2017-18 pupillages and 2018-19 pupillages are welcomed. The scheme encourages the provision of additional pupillages in those chambers (and other approved training organisations) whose work is predominantly publicly funded.

In short, the Inns will match the first six funding already provided by chambers. If, but for this scheme, a chambers would offer one pupillage, then the chambers can apply for a matched funding grant of £6,000 to fund the first six months of a second pupillage. If a chambers would, but for this scheme, have offered two pupillages then it can apply for up to two grants of £6,000 to fund up to two additional pupillages, and so on (hence matched funding).

Applications for a grant of £3,000 will also be considered from those chambers which have not recently provided a pupillage and would like to do so; chambers would provide £3,000 towards the first six months of pupillage. Subject to the permitted set-off of the pupil's earnings, the second six months of the additional pupillage(s) would be funded by chambers.

HOW AND WHEN TO APPLY

Applications will be invited from 1 September. Please follow the link below for more details and to complete and submit the online application by 5pm on Wednesday 19 October 2016. Please note this is earlier than previous years to accommodate the new Pupillage Gateway timetable.

OPEN AFTERNOON

On 28 September students are invited to an open afternoon at the Library. The event will last from 1pm to 5pm and will begin in the Lawson Room, which is on the first floor just below the Library.

Participants will be welcomed by Library staff who will explain about the services on offer to students and how the Library is arranged. The afternoon will include tours, demonstrations of the databases and our web-based services. There will be an orientation quiz with a prize draw for those who complete it. All participants will receive a tote bag containing an assortment of goodies.

STUDENT EVENINGS

The Deputy Librarian will be attending the Inn's introductory evenings for new students and will be happy to answer any questions about the Library and what it can offer.

LEGAL RESEARCH TRAINING

During Michaelmas Term the Library will again be running a series of training sessions for new pupils on various aspects of legal research. The aim of the sessions is to improve legal research skills.

The first session will take place on Tuesday 4 October between 6pm and 7.30pm and will provide an overview of the essentials of legal research, covering aspects of case law and legislation. The second and third sessions will take place on the evenings of Tuesday 25 October and Tuesday 1 November between 6pm and 7pm and will be in a workshop-style format. Participants will be given a series of questions to answer using the hard copy and electronic resources in the Library, where staff will be on hand to help.

Pupils wishing to attend the sessions can register for a place by emailing trainingsessions@innertemple.org.uk.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS

GIBRALTAR TRAINING

At the request of Inner Temple members at the Gibraltar Bar, two of the library staff, Tracey Dennis (Deputy Librarian) and Simon Hindley (Senior Library Assistant), will be providing legal research training for junior practitioners in Gibraltar over half a day on 17 November. This is an exciting opportunity and demonstrates how the Library continues to find ways of offering services to Inner Templars wherever they are based.

VISITORS

Recent visitors to the Library have included University of Westminster Erasmus scholar, Claudia Cristina Saltão, Head Librarian of the Faculty of Law at the New University of Lisbon, and members of library staff from the Institute of Advanced Legal Studies and the Institute of Classical Studies, as well as a group of art students doing a course on legal aesthetics.

The Indian High Commissioner and Deputy High Commissioner also called in to the Library to view the Indian material in our Commonwealth collection during their recent visit to the Inn.

TOURS

The Library will be hosting tours for BPTC students from Monday 12 September to Friday 23 September 2016 from 10.30am to 4.30pm. Tours take about 15 minutes and there is no need to book in advance. Students who take up the offer of a tour will also be given £2.50 of free photocopying credit.

We are happy to give Library tours at any time throughout the year to students who are unable to visit during the period advertised above.

ALBAN BRAHIMI AND MASTER NICE IN PRISHTINA

Alban Brahimi (Called 2013), a member of the Inner Temple originally from Kosovo, was invited by the British Embassy to give a talk on the Rule of Law and Corruption at celebrations for Her Majesty The Queen's 90th Birthday in Prishtina. The talk was broadcast on national television in Kosovo. Alban is pictured here with Master Nice, Chairman of the Inn's International Committee, and who was also present at the event. Earlier this year, Alban and colleagues from Kosovo and Albania, launched the British-Albanian Lawyers Association (BALA) at the Kosovo Embassy in London. BALA aims to strengthen communication within the British-Albanian legal community.

REJUVENATION OF HARE COURT

BY ANDREA BRUNSENDORF,
HEAD GARDENER

Traditionally one of the quietest times in the Inn is mid-summer but this year the garden team have been beavering away on a new planting scheme to rejuvenate the courtyard in Hare Court, intended to be completed in early October with the final planting up of the herbaceous layer.

Hare Court is a planted courtyard in a historic setting, it has a network of old Purbeck stone paths and draining channels that date back to the era of the Great Fire of London. There are four birch trees which are symbolic of the four Hare brothers who were members of the Inn in the late 16th and early 17th Century. The statue 'Justice' by Tanya Russell, commissioned in 2005 and unveiled in 2010, and the successful Sarcococca ruscifolia hedge, providing winter interest and a solid back bone to lower side of the courtyard, are the two other elements which will be retained in the new design.

We are transforming what has been a very functional 'corridor', providing access to Chambers and apartments, into an inviting and enjoyable landscape, inspired by Scandinavian woodland scenes. To achieve this, the new design includes a sinuous brick path to complement the elements of the surrounding buildings and to encourage exploration of the space. The path varies in width to accommodate seating areas and a small terraced area around the sculpture.

The shrub-layer will consist of multi-stemmed Amalancier skirting the courtyard, providing spring interest of white blossom and autumn interest of luminous foliage. Multi-stemmed and airy river birches (Betula nigra) will be planted around the existing four Himalayan birches to form the core and enhance the woodland atmosphere.

The under-planting will be denser and lusher on slightly mounded contours to add further interest to the shrub-layer. The northern end will have planting tolerant to drier and sunnier conditions, such as grasses like Stipa gigantea, Pennisetum alopecuroides, and sun-lovers such as agapanthus and hardy Jerusalem sage (Phlomis russeliana). The planting at the southern end will be reminiscent of a more shade tolerant woodland edge and will comprise of favourites of the garden team, which have been successful in the main garden in both interest and longevity. We will use a combination of Persicaria amplexicaulis 'Alba', Hakonechloa macra and Japanese anemone (A. × hybrida 'Honorine who wait, but we can enjoy the development of our design as it unfolds in the first 12 months of establishment. The garden team is looking forward to our weekly excursions up to Hare Court to tend the long-awaited rejuvenation of this unique space.

For more information on the renovation works schedule and to view the master design plan please visit our webpage www.innertemple.org.uk/hare-court

FOBS

The Inn is taking measures to improve the long-term security of the Estate, whilst also preserving the Garden for its members and tenants.

In mid-October 2016 a security access system will be installed on three of the Garden gates to incorporate the Garden into the existing electronic access system used on all buildings within the Estate. Access readers for registered fobs will be replacing the current locks on the Easy Access Gate on Crown Office Row, the Middle Temple Lane Pedestrian Gate and the gate opposite 11 King's Bench Walk. The exact launch date for the fob system is still to be confirmed, however, further information will be posted on the Garden section of the Inn's website, under the 'Visiting Us & Access' tab. Questions about the fob system should be directed to: Porters@innertemple.org.uk

GARDEN USE AND ACCESS

We believe it would be helpful to articulate expectations as to access and use of the Garden in the form of a short and common-sense set of Guidelines. The Draft Guidelines can be viewed in the Garden section of the Inn's website, www.innertemple.org.uk/index/the-inner-temple-garden/visiting-us-access. If you wish to comment on the Draft Guidelines, please send your views by email (marked 'Guidelines') to Andrea Brunsendorf, Head Gardener, pottingshed@innertemple.org.uk, by 17 October 2016.

Jobert'), cow parsley (Anthriscus) and the old-time favourite Helleborus x hybridus. Not to forget our reliable geophytes, such as daffodils and allium which will bring the space to life with a sea of colour each spring.

I am finding it hard to contain my excitement for this project, day-dreaming of the final product, however, I have to remind myself that we will all need to be patient for full vision to come into its own. We will be using young plants in the design to ensure successful establishment and durability by giving the plants the opportunity to adapt to their new environment. Like so many things in horticulture, good things come to those

1616: THE DISMISSAL OF LORD CHIEF JUSTICE COKE

In November 1616 Sir Edward Coke was summarily dismissed from the office of chief justice of the King's Bench (or lord chief justice of England), through the manoeuvrings of Francis Bacon and Lord Chancellor Ellesmere. It was the first of several such dismissals under the Stuart kings, but it was unprecedented at the time and generally regarded within the legal profession as an outrage. What had Coke done wrong? In short, he had stood up for the Rule of Law (relying on Magna Carta) in resisting claims by James I and his ministers to change the law without resorting to Parliament and to govern by arbitrary discretion. Perhaps he sometimes overstated his position, but he considered all change dangerous and did not like to compromise on questions of principle. The government chose to get rid of him instead of listening, with fatal consequences for Charles I. But Coke enjoyed the long-term victory, since the remedies of habeas corpus, prohibition and mandamus, which he championed laid the foundations of English administrative law. The events of 1616 deserve to be remembered by all lawyers, but especially here in the Inner Temple, where Coke studied, taught, practised and lived (in term-time) for much of his adult life.

PEGASUS CLUB

The Pegasus Club is, in effect, the Bar Saddle Club. We would like to encourage new members. The subscription is only £10.

In 1895 the Club ran its race for the first time. The race was won by a horse called Corunna owned by Alfred Lyttelton, who, apart from being a QC and politician, was an all-round sportsman. He was capped, for England at football and represented his country against Australia in a number of Test Matches. F E Smith was once president. In more recent times a number of High Court judges have ridden in the race and John Oaksey's first win was as a Bar student in the Pegasus Race. He twice went on to be champion amateur jockey and bred Carruthers who won the Hennessey, which John had previously won as a jockey. We hope the Corinthian spirit lives on.

The Club still runs their race at the VWH meeting near Cirencester. The entry conditions have been broadened but the race is still regularly won by a horse owned and ridden by a member of the Bar. There is a members' tent with liberal refreshments. You could make a week-end of it by staying in Cirencester, perhaps at the Fleece, on the Market Square. The race will be run on 25 March next year.

Our dinner this year is on 21 October at the Garrick. It is a jolly and colourful occasion because those who have it wear hunt evening dress.

We are hoping to reinstate the rides at the King's Troop. These were suspended while the Troop moved to Woolwich from St John's Wood. You get the chance to ride very fit troop horses under the instruction of an NCO. This can lead on to the chance of hunting with the Royal Artillery on Salisbury Plain on RA Saddle Club horses.

The Sixteen

Tuesday 15
November 7pm
The Temple Church

The Sixteen return to Temple Church with a glorious performance of Handel's Acis and Galatea. Handel's pastoral opera is a tale of tragedy, eternal love and liberation, telling the story of the mortal Acis, the goddess Galatea and their love doomed by the cyclops Polyphemus. Harry Christophers' production will stay true to the premiere performance in 1718, using a small group of five singers and nine instrumentalists.

Monday 5 December
2016 7pm
Middle Temple Hall

For the fourth Temple Song of the year, we are delighted that Roderick Williams is returning to Middle Temple Hall with pianist Julius Drake. He will perform a programme he has specially devised entitled 'An English Winter Journey'. It is a reflection in English song on Schubert's Winterreise, with twenty four songs including Britten, Elgar, Finzi, Gurney, Howells and Vaughan Williams. They follow the mood and themes of each of the twenty four settings Schubert chose for his own Winter Journey.

The Choir and Orchestra of Classical Opera

Following last year's sell-out performance at Middle Temple Hall, we are delighted to welcome Ian Page and Classical Opera to conclude this year's Temple Winter Festival. Their previous performances of Handel's Messiah have won widespread praise for their intimacy, narrative sweep and dramatic intensity. This performance, in the exquisite setting of Middle Temple Hall, promises to be just as memorable.
