NEW SERVICE LAUNCHED – MAKING IT EASIER TO MAKE AN INFORMED DECISION ABOUT A CAREER AT THE BAR

The Outreach Team has launched a new service as part of its work to reach more students with relevant and up to date information about a Career at the Bar. Students can now subscribe to a monthly Becoming a Barrister newsletter. It is already proving popular, with 1086 subscribers after three editions. The monthly newsletter will support the already successful Guide to

Becoming a Barrister which can be viewed here:

<http://www.innertemple.org.uk/prospective-members/careers-guide>

If you know someone who is interested in a career at the Bar, do encourage them to subscribe by visiting: <http://eepurl.com/bRGRF1>

INNER TEMPLE SCHOOLS PROJECT

On 5 April, the Outreach Team hosted the final Schools Project event of the academic year in collaboration with the Sutton Trust, Pure Potential and the Black Lawyers Directory. All three partners run social mobility initiatives designed to assist young people attending state sixth forms to access higher education and the Law.

The day-long seminar comprised a presentation on pursuing a career at the Bar, panel discussions on life as a barrister in different practice areas, and group case law and plea in mitigation workshops. We were especially privileged to have the assistance of several of the Inn's student members who provided valuable insight into life on the BPTC, approaches to scholarships and tips on securing legal work experience. The success of these events is largely attributable to the generosity of those who offer their time and expertise. Therefore we would like to thank everyone who participated:

5 April: Her Honour Judge Elizabeth Nicholls, Master O'Toole, Charles Bagot, Simon Heptonstall, Emma Jones, Rabah Kherbane, Alejandra Llorente Tascon, Gabriel Olufadeji, John Robb, Max Schofield, Rahul Varma and David Wood.

To find out more about volunteering for the Inner Temple schools project, please contact Daisy Mortimer.

LAW AT THE END OF LIFE

The final student conference weekend of the year took place at Cumberland Lodge over the weekend of 19-21 May 2017 and focussed on the legal quandaries surrounding end of life care. The 56 BPTC students in attendance heard from a panel of speakers with significant expertise in this area including Master Falconer, Tom Davies (Dignity in Dying), Master Havers, The Baroness Finlay of Llandaff and Robert Preston (Living and Dying Well). The panel was ably chaired by Master Peter Jackson. Students were invited to witness a mock trial concerning the topic at hand, participated in ethical discussions, and were given the opportunity to practise their advocacy skills and receive feedback from senior practitioners.

We would like to thank Master Owen Davies, Kyri Argyropoulos, Fallon Alexis and Master Peter Jackson for organising the weekend.

We would likewise like to thank our speakers and the members across several circuits who gave up their weekends to meet and teach students on this qualifying session course: Master Treasurer, Master Juliet May, Master Moor, Master Griffiths, Master Laws, Master Salter, Master Goss, Master Patrick, Master Collier, Master McCreath, Master Coleman, Master Kabir Sheikh, Master Christie, Nathan Rasiah, Hannah Smith, Robin Sellers and Naomi Gyane.

RAWLINSON CUP OLIVER MAY, PRESIDENT INNER TEMPLE DEBATING SOCIETY

The Rawlinson Cup is the Inner Temple Debating Society's annual internal debating competition. Students compete through a series of qualifying rounds each April for a chance to debate in the final, which takes place in front of the attendees of the May Mixed Dining Night.

This year the four finalists were Jake Armes, Helen Ball, Alex Maunders, and Mark Taylor, who debated the motion "This House would prefer a fixed parliamentary system in the United Kingdom". The motion concerned how a regular and predictable election cycle would impact our society and our political system, rather than the constitutional complexities of putting such a system in place.

The three judges who kindly gave up their evening to judge the final were Master Hodge, Patrick McMorrow, and Master Kabir Sheikh. They faced the difficult task of choosing the winner after a debate of the highest calibre in which every finalist entertained the audience with their wit, charm, and insightful arguments. After some deliberation the judges chose Jake Armes as the winner. Jake was awarded the Rawlinson Cup by Master Treasurer and the guest of honour Lady Rawlinson.

INNER TEMPLE PUPIL SUPERVISOR TRAINING

The Inn once again held its annual Pupil Supervisor Training Session in the Parliament Chamber on Thursday 4 May. Approximately 50 prospective pupil supervisors from both the employed and self-employed Bar took part in a 3 hour programme of talks and discussion sessions designed to prepare them for the challenges pupil supervisors typically face. A panel of speakers including Master Glick, Henry King, Diya Sen Gupta, Master Hodge, Tom Street, Julia Witting (BSB Supervision Manager) and Master Spearing gave talks on a wide variety of issues relating to pupillage and supervision. The trainees were split into discussion groups ably led by experienced pupil supervisors, including Noel Dilworth, Simon Heptonstall, Oliver Sanders QC, Oliver Jones, Nicholas Craig, Fionn Pilbrow, Catherine Callaghan and Master Simon. Thanks must go to all the speakers and group leaders who gave up their time to attend, with particular gratitude owed to Master Glick, for chairing the session.

ADVOCACY AND THE VULNERABLE

The Advocacy and the Vulnerable national training programme was developed by members of a working group headed by HHJ Rook QC in response to the Government's September 2014 paper, Our Commitment to Victims. Recognising and dealing appropriately with vulnerability is a skill that can be taught. This course has been designed to ensure that all advocates, when dealing with vulnerable witnesses, understand the key principles behind the approach to and questioning of vulnerable people in the justice system. The case materials and videos developed to support the training are available at www.icca.ac.uk/advocacy-the-vulnerable/delegate-materials.

It is anticipated that Advocacy and the Vulnerable training will become mandatory for any advocate wishing to undertake publicly funded work in serious sexual offence cases involving vulnerable witnesses.

Inner Temple will be running its first Advocacy and the Vulnerable training sessions for fully qualified practising barristers on 17 June (at the time of writing, the sessions are fully booked). We will be offering further training sessions in autumn 2017 and in 2018. If you are a fully qualified practising barrister who would like to express an interest in attending a session, please email vwtraining@innertemple.org.uk with your name, chambers/organisation and contact details. Details of forthcoming courses will be publicised on the Inn's website: www.innertemple.org.uk/vulnerable

If you would be interested in training as a Facilitator to deliver future courses at the Inn, please contact Fiona Fulton. To train as a Facilitator, you should have significant experience in dealing with vulnerable witnesses in sexual offences cases.

CALLING ALL NEW PUPILS!

If you have secured pupillage please remember to register your pupillage with the Bar Standards Board and also with the Inn. Please visit the Inner Temple website or contact David Miller for further information and a Pupillage Registration Form.

NEW PRACTITIONERS' ADVOCACY & ETHICS COURSE

The first of the Inn's annual Advocacy and Ethics courses for New Practitioners took place in April. The advocacy element of the course was held at Wotton House in Dorking, from 7-9 April. 36 junior barristers, split into civil and criminal groups, were given the opportunity to cross-examine real expert medical witnesses. The after-dinner speech on the Saturday night was given by The Hon Mr Justice Michael Soole, Master of the Bench.

The Ethics session took place on 24 April at the Inn, allowing the NPs to tackle a series of hypothetical ethical problems with the assistance of real solicitors and established practitioners. As always, the Education & Training Team would like to thank all those who gave up their time to teach, speak or attend the sessions as observers. The second course for this year takes place from 9-11 June (advocacy) and 19 June (ethics).

ADVOCACY PRIZE FOR PUPILS

The final of the Pupils Advocacy Prize was held on 15 May 2017. The prize is awarded annually to the two pupils who demonstrate the best advocacy skills at the year's compulsory pupils' advocacy courses. Congratulations are due to Joe-han Ho who received the Jarman Advocacy Award of £1,000, and to runner-up Christopher Sykes, who received the Davis Advocacy Award of £500. The Inn is very grateful to the family and friends of the late Nicholas Jarman QC and to his former chambers (4KBW, chambers of Timothy Raggatt QC), and to Master Simon Davis and his wife Caroline for their generous support of these awards.

QUESTION & ANSWER DAY

In conjunction with the Junior Bar Association, the Inner Temple is running its annual Question & Answer Day for prospective members on Sunday 25 June 2017. Question and Answer Day gives university students the opportunity to participate in a number of workshops on scholarships, applying for pupillage and life as a pupil/junior tenant.

The Inn is seeking practitioner members to take part in panel sessions, particularly those who have a disability or who came to the Bar later in life. Please contact Struan Campbell.

BARRISTERS TO GIVE MOCK INTERVIEWS

The Mock Interview Scheme gives students a chance to refine their interview technique with the support of an established barrister before they undertake a 'real' pupillage interview. The scheme is valued highly by our student members and consistently receives positive feedback. The time commitment is flexible but typically amounts to around 1-3 hours per year. Please contact Georgina Everatt.

GROUP LEADERS/JUDGES FOR STUDENT RESIDENTIAL WEEKENDS

The Education & Training Team organises three student conference weekends a year at external venues in Windsor and Northamptonshire. The weekends focus on a particular legal topic and include panel presentations from experts in that topic as well as sentencing exercises and advocacy exercises. Previous weekends have covered a broad range of topics including terrorism, the family court, deaths in custody, the impact of social media on the legal system, the jury system and vulnerable witnesses. Barrister members over 7 years' Call act as group leaders and judicial members judge the student advocacy exercise. If you would like to volunteer to be a group leader or judge at a future weekend, please contact Julia Armfield.

OUTREACH

The Outreach Team organises a range of outreach activities for school and university students at the Inn and across England and Wales. If you are interested in helping with these events, please contact Struan Campbell or Daisy Mortimer. We are particularly keen to hear from members on circuit.

REGIONAL QUALIFYING SESSIONS

BPTC students at providers outside of London are able to organise up to three qualifying sessions locally. These may be lectures, advocacy training, mooting or debating sessions followed by a reception with members of the local Bar. These sessions are subsidised by the Inn. Our student members would greatly appreciate the support of local members for these sessions. If you would be willing to help with future sessions, please contact Georgina Everatt.

ADVOCACY TRAINING FACULTY

The Inn's dedicated Advocacy Trainers provide compulsory advocacy training courses for pupils and new practitioners and are increasingly being called upon to provide specialist advocacy training for established practitioners. If you are over 7 years' Call and would be interested in undertaking the October advocacy teacher-training course to support this core function of the Inn, please contact David Miller.

VOLUNTEERING

If you are a member who would like to volunteer to help with Education & Training activities, please see our Guide to Volunteering Opportunities in the Members' section of the website or request a copy from the Education & Training Team.

STATE BAR OF CALIFORNIA VS THE BAR OF ENGLAND & WALES MOOT

A successful moot between members of the State Bar of California and members of the Bar of England & Wales was held on Tuesday 9 May in Hall. The Inner Temple was represented by Master Leslie Thomas, who acted as lead counsel, and Master Hallett, who sat on the judging panel and gave an insight into appellate court advocacy. A networking reception followed.

INTERNATIONAL APPOINTMENTS AND MEMBERSHIP ACTIVITY: MAKING MORE OF INNER TEMPLE MEMBERS

The Inn's International Committee would be pleased to hear from any member with news of their, or any other Inner Templar's, appointment to an international court or in another jurisdiction. We would also be keen to learn more about the activities our members undertake overseas, including – but not limited to – advocacy training and lectures; and of books they publish, heavy legal tomes or otherwise. The Inner Temple has much influence; we want those at home to know quite how much, and those abroad to know how greatly they are valued.

LIBRARY RESOURCES FOR THE BAR

A new edition of Library Resources for the Bar has just been published, and is available in the Library and for downloading from the website. This guide outlines the collections, services and facilities that are available in the four Inn Libraries. It also features details of the Inn Libraries specialisation scheme.

www.innertemplelibrary.org.uk

NEW DATABASES

The Library now subscribes to the Bahamas Law Reports and the Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court Reports via Lexis, and to the Cayman Islands Law Reports via Justis. These are all jurisdictions for which the Inner Temple is responsible under the Inn Libraries specialisation scheme.

The Casetrack judgments database was closed down at the end of February following a decline in usage. The judgment transcripts previously obtainable via Casetrack are available via ICLR Online, Justis, Lexis and Westlaw. All of our subscription databases are available for use within the Library only.

TRAINING UPDATE

On 4 April, a group of pupils attended the latest legal research session run by members of the Library team. This session is intended as an overview of some of the key aspects of legal research that pupils should be aware of as they start pupillage. Participants asked interesting questions, and comments on the feedback forms were encouraging. All said that they would recommend the training to other pupils, with one attendee saying it was “very, very informative. Loved it.”

After the session we emailed attendees to ask for their views on the content, format, timing and location of training courses. We will take their responses into consideration when planning future training events.

On 20 April, the Deputy Librarian gave a presentation on locating authorities to clerks at Blackstone Chambers. The idea for this came about after discussions with chambers' librarians on how the Library could help clerks to find reports of cases for themselves. The session provided some background on the English legal system and offered tips on how to find law reports more quickly and easily.

The clerks attended in two groups so that their office was manned throughout the training. Feedback from clerk, Tom Hatcher, on behalf of all the participants indicated that “the presentation was well constructed and clear; all information was relevant and useful; the presentation provided a good refresher for those who have not dealt with authorities for a long time and several people found learning about the hierarchy of online sources very useful, as they did not know about that before.”

The Library is happy to organise training in Chambers. Please contact tdennis@innertemple.org.uk if you think your clerks would benefit from our assistance.

ACCESSTOLAW RELAUNCH

The new version of AccessToLaw, our legal gateway site, is now live. The upgraded site runs on WordPress, the same technology that underpins the Library website and the Current Awareness blog. It is now more user-friendly and works on all devices – from PCs to tablets to smartphones.

AccessToLaw contains annotated links to selected UK, Commonwealth and worldwide legal resources including case law, legislation, commentary and organisations. Entries are arranged in five sections: United Kingdom, Commonwealth, Other Jurisdictions, Legal Subject Areas and General Resources.

The site’s content is selected, annotated and updated on a quarterly basis by members of the library team. Our aim is to include free sites relevant to lawyers practising in the UK.

In 2016, there were 148,324 individual visitors to the site from 197 countries, the majority coming from the UK, USA, Malaysia, India, Canada, Australia and Singapore. The sections accessed most frequently were Case Law, Court Information, Legal Journals, Northern Ireland, Caribbean, Courts and Tribunals, Republic of Ireland and Regulatory Law.

GARDEN NEWS

THE MULCH REVOLUTION

BY ANDREA BRUNSENDORF,
HEAD GARDENER

The Victorians appreciated the value of introducing organic matter such as well composted horse manure to their cultivated soils to maintain its health, structure and fertility. Despite their famed ingenuity, somehow they lacked the foresight that horse and cart would one day be replaced by 8-wheel lorries travelling up and down Bazalgette's Embankment to deliver those vital essentials through our historic garden gates. Recent changes to our local road layout have further added to the challenge of these bulk deliveries and to some extent exacerbated my illogical continental European anxiety of isolated island life, where the Temple seems to be an island within an island. Such challenges are perhaps the natural fate of an historic estate being situated in a fastmoving urban metropolis and so we must try to adapt by being creative in modifying our horticultural principles and reviewing the resources within our gates.

It is common horticultural practice to collect your autumn leaves, shred and compost them down to leaf mould in an uncultivated part of your garden. Annually, we produce two tonnes of this horticultural 'gold dust' (which doesn't seem like much if you think that we have over 65 trees in the Garden). Unfortunately, the leaves of our plane trees cannot be utilised for this rapid turn-around process. Plane tree leaves are equipped with thick waxy cuticles, an adaptation to reduce the rate of transpiration and water loss in its native Mediterranean climates. These water-repellent cuticles prevent the absorption of water, which is crucial for the decomposition process and resultantly a plane tree leaf can take up to three years to break down. I was starting to feel increasingly uneasy about shipping all this seemingly unusable organic material off-site every autumn, until we identified a narrow strip of undisturbed ground behind our long Embankment yew hedging as a site for slow decomposition, whilst also doubling up as a mulch. Obviously, this site isn't the most practical location for leaf composting as we needed to fine tune our off-road tractor driving skills and basket dumping technique to avoid an avalanche of shredded leaves taking out the speed-walking commuters on the pedestrian path below. Although this doesn't get full marks on the aesthetic front, it still fulfils the functionally of other mulches: suppressing weeds, minimising water loss from the soil and improving soil structure.

This winter we took it a step further and shredded the plane tree leaves harvested from amongst the turf lilies, under the London Plane tree avenue, into a very fine mulch that we re-introduced back to the same site. Time will tell if this experiment is successful and if this method could potentially save us buying 30 tonnes of well composted mulch every other year.

When we were cutting down and shredding the Japanese mountain grass under the Manchurian Walnut and using it as light mulch in the same area, the penny finally dropped that I was practising a method that my apprentice-self had been in awe of. I had heard all this before. Mr Masanobu Fukuoka was a Japanese farmer and philosopher celebrated for his natural farming methods, promoting no-till, no-weed, no-herbicide grain cultivation worldwide in the 1970s. I read his book 'One Straw Revolution' in the days when I was a horticultural apprentice back in Germany and I remembered being very intrigued by his alternative approach to soil cultivation. We were taught what seems to be the opposite of his approach and I always wondered if I would ever be able to try and test some of his ideas in my more traditional horticultural career.

And see here, unconsciously in the last couple of years we have been practising some of Mr Fukuoka's techniques. Maintaining the balance of both his 'natural' approach and the more 'clinically tidy' tradition of gardening helps us create a healthy and aesthetically pleasing space whilst striving to be more self-sustainable. Consequently, this reduces the number of mulch lorries that we need to squeeze through our gates and counterbalances my illogical continental European anxiety of isolated island living. I am currently revisiting Mr Fukuoka's book with my colleagues and volunteer in our horticultural book club.

THE THAMES EMBANKMENT, LONDON BOULEVARDS AND THE GARDENS OF THE INNER TEMPLE:

ROBERT MARNOCK'S (1800-1889) VISIONS FOR THE GREENING OF LONDON

In 1874, the Thames Embankment designed by Joseph Paxton was declared the handsomest boulevard in Europe. The great landscape gardener Robert Marnock (1800-1889), formerly the curator of the Royal Botanic Garden at Regents Park, along with his two assistants Alexander McKenzie and Joseph Fyfe Meston landscaped many of the great gardens and parks throughout the country. It was these assistants who went on to work for the Metropolitan Board of Works, where they landscaped many of our great London parks, as well as the Thames Embankment parks, which were feted for their beauty and perceived to far exceed those created in Paris. Robert Marnock was employed by the Inner Temple to design their gardens following the construction Thames Embankment. This lecture will detail the construction process of the gardens of the Inner Temple and discuss how these contributed to the overall scheme.

The Pegasus Club is open to any member of an Inn of Court for a subscription of £10 a year. We welcome new members.

The club was founded to run a race meeting for its members. The race, which has been run nearly every year since 1895, has been at Siddington, about a mile from Cirencester, for the last nine years as part of the Vale of White Horse Hunt meeting. Spectators get a very good view because the land rises at the side of the course which means that one can see both sides of the course. This year the race was held in early spring sunshine on 25 March. There were eight runners. The first horse past the post was Karinga Dancer owned by Lady O'Brien, a member of the Bar, who rode in the race herself a number of years ago.

Technically those who train horses to run between the flags are not called trainers such is the desire to keep up the amateur nature of the sport, but for practical purposes the horse was trained by Laura Thomas who is working up the rankings with great success as a 'trainer'. She also rode the horse and got him settled and balanced so as to enable him to win convincingly. The second horse was owned by George Threlfall, a long-time stalwart of the club, and the third horse was owned by the race secretary, Chris Smyth, who did all the work. They are both Western Circuiteers. It was a competitive race and the field were not strung out at the finish.

The club has a tent, run very hospitably by Jo Smyth, well supplied with drinks and food which are free to members. There are lots of agreeable places to stay. The Fleece in Cirencester is particularly recommended and has very good food. After the races, we all had supper at the Greyhound in Siddington.

Our next event is our dinner at the Travellers Club on 13 October, which is black tie, or hunt evening dress if you happen to have it. It is a jolly and colourful occasion. This year's speaker is Charles Moore.

If you would like to join, email our secretaries on either Rebecca.Drake@39essex.com or Alexandra.Bodnar@39essex.com.

The Piatti Quartet

Purcell arr Britten The Queen's Epicideum
Britten The Holy Sonnets of John Donne, Op 35
Vaughan Williams On Wenlock Edge

The unique tenor Ian Bostridge returns to Middle Temple Hall for a programme that features The Holy Sonnets of John Donne by Benjamin Britten. John Donne's sermons at the Inns of Court were famous for their wit and erudition and over seventy volumes from his personal library, one of the largest collections in the world, are in the Rare Book and Manuscript Collection of Middle Temple Library. The Piatti Quartet, one of the most distinguished quartets of their generation, join Ian Bostridge and Julius Drake in the second half for a performance of Vaughan Williams' song cycle, On Wenlock Edge.

STAFF NEWS

FARHAD AHMED

We are pleased to announce that Farhad has been appointed Team Leader in the Pegasus Bar. Farhad had previously worked as a waiter in the Hall for two years before leaving to finish his studies at University. He then joined the Pegasus team in March 2015.

ELEANOR MILLER

Eleanor left the Inn in May to join the Financial Conduct Authority as an Associate in Operations in a large procurement team. She joined the Inn, as Procurement Officer, in late 2016. We are sorry to lose Eleanor after such a short stay but we wish her all the best for the future.

MIND WELLBEING INDEX – BRONZE AWARD

We are proud to announce that the Inner Temple has been awarded Bronze in Mind Inaugural Workplace Wellbeing Index.

A Bronze award means we are achieving change within our workplace.

By participating in the Index we have made a long-term commitment to supporting our employees' mental wellbeing. By taking part in the first year, we are a trailblazer in our sector and we are part of a movement for change in workplace mental health.

Our participation in Mind Workplace Wellbeing Index means we are contributing towards cutting edge research on workplace wellbeing. Find out more at www.mind.org.uk

Well done to everyone who helped make this happen.
