Michaelmas 2021

We, the Benchers, Members and staff of The Inner Temple greet you, the new members of the Inn, most of whom are readying yourselves for the Bar Course.

The immediate future will see the conclusion of Project Pegasus, following the closure of the Inn's Treasury Building and Hall for a comprehensive redevelopment to provide an education and training centre with smart modern training rooms and an attractive lecture theatre. The recent boost in our online facilities resulting from the pandemic and lockdown will ensure that no members of the Inn will miss out on the benefits this new centre will offer: those on circuit will we hope find the Inn just as accessible as those physically present in London.

Over my years in practice, centred in the Inn, and now as Treasurer for a couple of years, I have accumulated a stock of rather better reasons why I should indeed have chosen this Inn as my Inn – and here are my thoughts for those of you who, like me, knew very little about your new professional home when deciding in favour of it, and who are wondering what might be in store for you over the next few years.

From our point of view, the Inn is a centre of companionship: a place where we come together for good cheer, good food, superb company and great entertainment. Ours is a hard profession, and downtime such as this is crucial if we are not to feel isolated. Some of us treat our Inn as a great resource into which we can dip as and when we need to. Many of us go further, and become involved in the committees by which it runs its affairs, with the Bar Liaison Committee offering an easy way in for our members.

And some go still further, and put themselves forward as trainers in advocacy and the many other skills that students will need as barristers. This Inn has a large and experienced education and training department which supports our trainers. This, together with the vast amount of money the Inn gives out in scholarships each year, is probably the best reason for joining. We hope that you will all become involved in training others in this way: it is good for those whom you will train, and it is good for you to share your skills and to enjoy the warm glow that comes from your association with others in your Inn.

For those of you who will practise in London, the physical benefits of the Inn hardly need stating. Its estate includes a fabulous collection of architecturally renowned buildings and a Garden around which it is always a huge pleasure to walk. We share the City's oldest Norman church with our friends in Middle Temple, and are able to glory not merely in the beauty of its stonework, but also in the quality of its services, and the excellence of its musicians and choir at the many concerts it stages. I cannot conceive of a more pleasant working environment.

So, there is much for you to enjoy in this Inn, and you are to be congratulated for choosing it. You will find that much of what we provide for you is completely free or heavily subsidised. In turn, we hope that you will respond generously, by playing a full part in the life of the Inn. My own experience has shown that you will enjoy your career much more if you do so: you will become part of that great tradition at the Bar, and in particular in this Inn, of looking out not merely for yourself, but for others too.

We are at that point now where we are about to have our Inn buildings restored to us, and will once again – after two years – be able to hold our own functions in our own space. Please join us: we are all keen to spend time with you, to pass on to you what we have found valuable in our careers, and to encourage you in your journey to what we think is the best career in the world.

Education & Training

Keep Calm and Carry On

Thank you to all of our volunteers and trainers for their support in adapting to the changes required to deliver Education and Training activities during Project Pegasus and the COVID-19 pandemic. Your support has ensured that the Inn can deliver its activities and that they develop in line with the needs of the profession. As you will see from the following articles, the work to adapt our practices as necessary continues. All our behind-the-scenes work with colleagues, committees, the other Inns and external bodies has continued as close as possible to our original plans and where we have found it necessary to make changes, we hope to have communicated these quickly and clearly. Our work continues into the new academic year, making safe and practical plans to deliver our programme and hopefully meeting the Inn's new student members in person in the coming months.

We understand that change can be disruptive, but it can also present new opportunities and as a department we'll do our best to continue to provide and improve upon the services we offer.

Please contact the Education & Training Department with any concerns or queries you may have about our programme of events and activities. We're here to help and to listen.

Student Training and Support

As part of the vocational training, and also as an introduction to the Inn, we will be holding compulsory online Introductory Evenings for new Bar Course students at the beginning of term.

There will be separate evenings for students studying at providers in London and those studying on Circuit (outside of London), so students booking their place should ensure that the correct session is selected when booking.

Introductory Evening for London Students

Tuesday 21 September 2021

Introductory Evening for Students on Circuit

Friday 1 October 2021

The Introductory Evenings will each feature a panel of speakers talking about life at the Inner Temple and will allow students an opportunity to network with experienced practitioners.

The full term's Qualifying Sessions (including the Introductory Evenings) will be advertised to the students over the summer and all Michaelmas events will open for booking at the end of August.

Future Bar Training

The last two years have been truly unprecedented, the Inn has nonetheless managed to implement the goals laid out in the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) signed by the four Inns and BSB in April 2019. Intended to clarify our respective roles and responsibilities, the changes proposed by the MoU have heavily affecting our Qualifying Sessions and general educational provision and the department is extremely proud to have successfully implemented these changes amidst the pressures of COVID-19. Specifically, a new system is now in place whereby students who enrolled on a Bar Training Pathway from September 2020 onwards must complete ten Qualifying Sessions across five designated themes prior to being called.

The five themes, which cover all aspects of the skills and knowledge students need to learn as part of their training for the Bar, are as below:

- A. Ethics, Standards and Values;
- B. Advocacy Skills;
- C. Legal Knowledge, Justice and the Rule of Law;
- D. Equality, Diversity and Inclusion; and
- E. Preparation for Pupillage, Career Development and Well-being.

Students also need to attend a certain number of Qualifying Sessions that are interactive and require preparation ahead of time. These themes have, in many ways, shaped the last year of Qualifying Sessions quite as much as the COVID-19 crisis, with new events such as the online EDI series and a much broader scope of Ethics sessions added to the programme to meet the needs of the framework. This has allowed for a much more diverse range of sessions and one the department will continue to refine and develop going forwards.

Further changes are already in sight, as Transferring Legal Professionals will now need to meet the same Qualifying Session requirements as students, and the Inn hopes to meet these challenges successfully over the course of the next academic year.

The Inn now needs your support. If you are a practitioner on circuit and feel you can support a Qualifying Session, please get in touch with the Education and Training Department asap.

Insight Evenings

The Education and Training department hosts a series of Insight Evenings on becoming a barrister and life at the Bar. The evenings are specifically for Year 12 and 13 students, university students, graduates and career changers. Prior to the pandemic we had expanded our Insight events programme to visit more cities around the country, and we pivoted successfully to online sessions during the past year and hope to keep up a similar level of accessibility.

The structure of the evenings includes a panel session followed by a question and answer section. When the events are held in person this is followed by a reception. The evenings run from 6.00pm to 8.00pm (or 8.30pm when in person). Typically, panellists speak for ten minutes on their professional life and route to the Bar, and then attendees can ask their questions.

We are planning to host these events both in person and virtually, but will be following government guidelines on social distancing and events closely. In the event that the Insight Evenings cannot take place in person, we will revert to online events. The dates for the Autumn term are as follows:

Tuesday 19 October (Online)

Thursday 21 October (Online)

Tuesday 26 October

Aloft

No. 1 North John Street, Liverpool, L2 5QW

Tuesday 2 November

Malmaison Birmingham

1 Wharfside Street, Birmingham, B1 1RD

Tuesday 9 November

Hilton Brighton Metropole

Kings Road, Brighton, BN1 2FU

If you would like to volunteer your time, please contact Edwina Koroma.

In Focus Events

The In Focus series aims to have open and frank discussions with members and prospective barristers about issues that underrepresented groups in the profession may face and to discuss the progress being made and remaining challenges. Previous subjects in this series have included Disability at the Bar, Being LGBT+ at the Bar, Being BAME at the Bar and Neurodiversity at the Bar.

Our next event is on Thursday 18 November 2021 and is titled Caring Responsibilities at the Bar.

The event is an online roundtable featuring practising and prospective barristers discussing caring responsibilities at the Bar. The event is open to all, and we encourage barristers to share their experiences of balancing caring responsibilities as a guardian, parent or carer with a career at the Bar. Speakers are also free to comment on any work that chambers may be doing to assist practitioners in the workplace. Guests are encouraged to bring questions for discussion.

If you would like to attend or contribute to the conversation, please contact Edwina Koroma

Pegasus Trust Scholarships

Applications for the 2022 Pegasus Trust Scholarships will open in early October and the closing date is Friday 26 November 2021. Scholarships are available to tenants or employed barristers (of all four Inns) who have practised as a barrister for up to five years (not including pupillage). This is an opportunity to spend six to twelve weeks in another jurisdiction, seeing how its legal system works as well as making new friends and (possibly) escaping the worst of the British weather. To complete the application form, please go to innertemple.org.uk/pegasustrust

The Pegasus Scholarship Trust is grateful to all the Chambers that support the Trust by hosting scholars for our spring, summer or autumn placements each year. If you or your chambers would be interested in hosting a scholar please contact the Trust's Secretary, Sellisha Lockyer.

Pupils Advocacy Prize 2020/21

The semi-final and final of this year's Pupils Advocacy Prize were held on Thursday 9 July, taking place entirely online via Zoom. The semi-finalists, Charlotte Crocombe, Nick Fryer and Lauren Hitchman, all presented examinations-in-chief, cross-examinations and closing speeches for a civil case, with the witnesses played by student members of the Inn. Two of the three candidates were selected by the course directors to go on to the final, repeating their performances. With very little separating the pair, Master James Dingemans (The Rt Hon Lord Justice Dingemans) eventually declared Lauren Hitchman as the winner, receiving the Jarman Prize of £1000, and Nick Fryer the runner-up, receiving the Davis Prize of £500. Thanks are given to Mrs Julia Jarman and Master Simon Davis and Caroline Davis for their sponsorship of the prizes, and we were delighted that they were able to join us online to observe the final.

Calling All Pupils!

The first of the Inn's compulsory advocacy courses for pupils will begin in October 2021, and is likely to be a mixture of online and in-person training. If you have not yet registered your pupillage with the BSB (and either sent a copy of your form to the Inn, or let us know the details of your pupillage), please contact

David Miller as soon as possible. Even if you are not due to start pupillage until spring 2022, you must still attend an advocacy course before the start of your second six, so please register your details as soon as possible. Failure to do so could result in your not being issued with a practising certificate.

Nuremburg and The Inner Temple

Master Stephen Kay

20 November 2021 will mark the 75th anniversary of the day the President of the International Military Tribunal sitting at Nuremburg opened the trial of Major War Criminals of the Third Reich. The President of the International Military Tribunal Sir Geoffrey Lawrence later Lord Oaksey was a member of The Inner Temple and Treasurer in 1954. The British Reserve Judge at Nuremburg Sir Norman Birkett described the trial as the “greatest in history”. Lord Oaksey said of it: “There were, I suppose, three possible courses: to let the atrocities which had been committed go unpunished; to put the perpetrators to death or punish them by executive action; or to try them. Which was it to be? Was it possible to let such atrocities go unpunished? Could France, could Russia, could Holland, Belgium, Norway, Czechoslovakia, Poland or Yugoslavia be expected to consent to such a course? ...It will be remembered that after the first world war alleged criminals were handed over to be tried by Germany, and what a farce that was! The majority got off and such sentences as were inflicted were derisory and were soon remitted.”

The system was described by Lord Wright: “each to its own work in bringing to justice these enemies who committed offences against its nationals.” Lord Wright ended his speech with the words: “The end is worthwhile. Fiat justitia”.

Another Treasurer who played a significant role in this chapter of history, although he is perhaps not so well known as Sir Geoffrey for his International achievements was Lord Wright of Durley. He presided over the massive rebuilding programme that followed the destruction of the Inn in 1941 and was Treasurer in 1946. It was amongst the rubble of these buildings in Temple House that the historic Nuremburg Charter that established the International Military Tribunal was signed on 8 August 1945 by a mixture of the prosecution and judiciary that took part in the trial: Robert Jackson, the US Prosecutor; Robert Falco, the French reserve judge, and Iona Nikitchenko who sat as the Russian Judge. The additional signatories were Professor Aaron Trainin (USSR) and Lord Jowitt, the Lord Chancellor of England and Wales. However, it is not for his reconstruction programme that Lord Wright is of such international significance. He was the Chairman of the United Nations War Crimes Commission National Offices Conference that met in London 31 May – 2 June 1945 in Court 5 of the Royal Courts of Justice and this year also marks that event’s 70th year anniversary.

Court 5 of the RCJ was where what was called the “National Offices” of 16 States met for a conference to discuss the means and ways of collecting evidence and capturing war criminals so that national governments could prosecute those that had committed crimes on their people and upon their lands. The 16 States included Russia, China and the United States. The Inner Temple library holds a book on the History of the United Nations War Crimes Commission and the Development of the Laws of War.

The foreword and introductory chapter are written by Lord Wright, but I will quote here from the minutes of his speech that opened the conference and which sums up the spirit of the UNWCC:

“The time has now come when the mere collection of material must change over into action. Action here means the trials of criminals and their conviction, sentence and punishment where appropriate. That is the goal to which we have all been working. Justice to be effective must be expeditious, any avoidable delay is certainly mischievous and may be fatal to the attainment of the object which is sought, that is the punishment of the criminals for the double purpose of retribution to satisfy the people’s demand for justice, and of warning and example to deter such crimes in future.”

The UNWCC had the function of investigating evidence referred to it and then reporting to the governments of the 16 States the identities of perpetrators suspected of committing the crimes. The Commission had no investigation capacity on the ground, but was intended to supply the evidence it acquired to The National Commissions that would undertake the complete prosecutions in their own States. The system was described by Lord Wright: “each to its own work in bringing to justice these enemies who committed offences against its nationals.” Lord Wright ended his speech with the words: “The end is worthwhile. Fiat justitia”.

COIC Matched Funding

COIC welcomes applications for matched funding for 2022-2023 and 2023-2024 pupillages.

The COIC Pupillage Matched Funded Scheme (PMF) helps provide additional pupillages in Chambers, and other approved training organisations, predominantly engaged in legally aided work. Encouragingly, a growing number of Chambers are applying for COIC matched funded grants. COIC is set to support 32 pupillages in 2021. This is an impressive improvement on the scheme's first year of operation in 2014, when it supported 14 pupillages.

How the Scheme Works

It is a prerequisite of the scheme that chambers understand that matched funded pupillages are in addition to those they would have offered in any event. COIC match pupillage funding already provided by chambers with a total grant of £9,550 for 2022-2023 London pupillages and £8,150 for 2022-2023 out of London pupillages and, £9,650 for 2023-24 London pupillages and £8,250 for 2023-24 out of London pupillages, to fund the first six months of a second pupillage. Chambers are responsible for ensuring that the total pupillage award meets the BSB's minimum award for the year in question. COIC appreciates that the receipt of grants is all the more important to chambers during the global pandemic, and are offering flexibility with the opportunity to defer awards where necessary.

How to Apply

Applications to match fund 2022-2023 and 2023-2024 pupillages are invited between 1 September and 22 October 2021. Decisions will be communicated during the week commencing 8 November 2021. Online applications can be made at: coic.org.uk/pupillage-matched-funding

Testimonials

Spire Barristers

Spire Barristers – the only specialist Family and Public Law (Court of Protection etc) set on the North Eastern Circuit and in the North of England has been in existence now for a period of three years; within which time our excellent reputation within these practice areas has continued to be secured. Our members are amongst the most formidable and dynamic of practitioners and the highly specialist pupillages we offer and provide are, we consider second to none!

It has been possible, thanks only to the grants provided to us by COIC through the PMF scheme for us to recruit two pupils each year since Spire Barristers inception, all of whom have gone on to become thriving and exceptional junior tenants.

We have always had the work to assist two pupils to build successful practices but as over 85% of our work is publicly funded, we have only been able to afford to fund one full pupillage a year. Over recent years, Chambers' age demographic has altered such that we have been keen to continue to build our membership, requiring us to focus our recruitment attention on the junior end to enable us to pass on our knowledge and expertise. It is thanks to the fabulous opportunity offered by this scheme that Chambers' has been assisted in securing continuing growth from the bottom, where strong roots are now 'taking hold'.

Sarah Blackmore
Joint Head of Chambers & Director of Pupil Training
Spire Barristers

Nexus

Nexus – the Chambers of Michael Mansfield QC, is a growing common law set mainly undertaking legal aid work. Prior to the introduction of COIC's Pupillage Matched Funding scheme, Nexus was unable to offer pupillage. Since 2015, with the assistance of the scheme, we have taken two pupils per year; we are delighted that of the 9 pupils who have completed their pupillages with us, 7 have accepted offers of tenancy at Nexus. We are particularly pleased that both of our 2019-20 pupils have joined us as tenants, despite the challenges posed by the pandemic.

Thanks to COIC's generous support in awarding our funding well in advance, we are able to plan ahead and have generally been offering pupillages 13 to 19 months prior to the pupils' commencement dates. We believe that this is to the benefit of candidates, particularly those from disadvantaged economic backgrounds, because it allows the best candidates the security of knowing they have a pupillage before embarking upon the vocational stage of training.

We pride ourselves on our Fair Recruitment & Selection procedures. As a result, we have recruited some extremely talented pupils from a wide range of backgrounds. We have taken pleasure in seeing our pupils flourish as advocates and very much hope that COIC will continue to support chambers through the PMF scheme.

Selden Society Lecture

Tuesday 19 October 2021

John Selden and Legal History: ‘Liberty above all Things’

Professor Sir John Baker QC

John Selden (1584-1654) was one of the leading figures in pre-Revolution England. Famously, John Milton said of him that he was, “the chief of learned men reputed in this land”. Today we would call him a polymath. He was a lawyer, historian, politician and Hebraic Biblical scholar. He used his unparalleled knowledge of history to support his legal arguments against the King’s use of excessive executive power and his activities saw him imprisoned in the Tower of London alongside other leading parliamentarians. And yet, his name has not entered popular culture along with his admirers such as Ben Johnson or Thomas Hobbes.

Professor Sir John Baker will discuss with His Honour Donald Cryan the use of legal history by Selden in the public sphere.

Professor Sir John Baker QC is Downing Professor Emeritus of the Laws of England, a former President of the Selden Society and an Inner Temple Bencher. His Honour Donald Cryan (Hon) LLD is a former Treasurer of The Inner Temple and a member of the Council of the Selden Society.

Antigua

Master Mark Hill met with Inner Templars in Antigua in June 2021. The visit, co-ordinated by Inner Temple member Lenworth Johnson, President of the Antigua Bar Association, began with a visit to Mr Johnson's practice, Johnson and Gardiner, in St John's. A lunch took place the following week with Gail Christian, also a Parliamentary Senator and formerly Ambassador to Mexico, Jan Gonzales-Peltier, of Christopher & Associates, and Hollis Francis, of HEF Law Limited. Master Hill also visited High Court, where he was to Mrs Cecile Hill, Registrar of the High Court, who is also an Inner Temple member. Mr Johnson has set up a WhatsApp Group for Inner Templars in Antigua, which is growing number.

Joint Amity Visit to Washington, D.C.

September 2022

The Inner Temple is co-ordinating with Gray's Inn on a Joint Amity Visit to Washington, D.C. in September 2022. The Amity Visit would be organised in collaboration with the American Inns of Court, to include networking and socialising activities with our American lawyer and judge counterparts, as well as cross-jurisdictional learning and professional development opportunities. If possible, we hope that the programme will include a dinner in the Great Hall at the US Supreme Court.

At this stage, we are seeking expressions of interest – the visit will only go ahead if we receive a good level of interest. We expect to be able to accommodate up to 100 members (including any guests) from each Inn, led by our respective Treasurers in 2022, Her Honour Judge Deborah Taylor and The Right Hon Sir Peter Gross. Members of the Inn would be responsible for the costs of their own travel and accommodation, but we are seeking to engage the services of a travel management company to co-ordinate these arrangements (such as discounted rates for group hotel reservations).

We will of course keep this proposed event under review in light of travel restrictions and the COVID-19 pandemic.

Please complete a short form to indicate your interest – innertemple.typeform.com/amityvisit2022

If you have any questions, please contact Jennie Collis Price, Head of the Sub-Treasurer's Office, at jcollisprice@innertemple.org.uk or on 0207 797 8177.

Garden

Seed Heads

Sam Fry, Trainee Gardener

The High Border in late summer, Cardoon seed heads in top right

September marks halfway through my traineeship at the Inner Temple Garden. This brings a period of reflection on how much I have learned so far, and how much I have yet to learn. The Garden in September remains prominent in my mind. I was so excited last year to be embarking on my traineeship in this celebrated Garden. Mental images of the towering High Border, bursting at the seams with Salvias, Miscanthus, and Cardoons have stayed with me. The biscuity seed heads of the Cardoons, Cynara cardunculus, fluffy in the low light between the warm spires of Salvias, Dahlias and ornamental grasses. All set against the backdrop of the changing colors of the Crimson Glory Vine, Vitis coignetiae. This moment in the calendar marks a phenomenal season of horticultural interest.

Vitis turning red with Clematis tangutica 'Lambton Park' seed heads

Something I have found exciting at the Inner Temple Garden is the planting across the Garden draws from the whole spectrum of a plant's life cycle. Working with the aesthetic qualities of many plants, not just in flower but once the seed heads have formed. This is influenced by the horticultural style known as the new perennial movement. The most renowned designer of this style is Piet Oudolf, most famously leaving his mark on the New York Highline. Oudolf's tapestry planting is built from a variety of herbaceous perennials, ornamental grasses and shrubs. His palette gradually climbs through the seasons, where the beauty of the plants going to seed in the winter is as important as the earlier flowers.

architectural prowess in the border. As the months march on, the purple fades from their flowers to a soft golden-brown leading to the seeds, light and feather-like, taking prominence as the foliage dies back.

Wild Teasel, Dipsacus fullonum is another favorite that provides long periods of visual impact. It can be found in the beds either side of the steps down to the main lawn and throughout the Long border running the length of Paper Buildings. A biennial, it germinates to a rosette of long ribbed basal leaves, that the following year push a barbed stem. The pinnate leaves gather opposite each other along the stem forming reservoirs that collect water. This is how it gained its name, after the Greek word for thirst, Dipsa. It can reach 2.5 meters tall, with spiked cone-like flowers, first green, then ringed with a floriferous violet halo in July. My favorite stage comes now as it loses its verdant green to an earthly grey brown. The spiked flower dried but still rigid atop the stem. Traditionally the dried flowers were used in cloth making to 'raise the nap', combing over new cloth to give a fluffy appearance.

The dried structures remain in the Garden throughout winter, providing a food source for birds - a particular favorite of Goldfinches. Once we arrive at Christmas,

The Cardoons, Cynara cardunculus grouped across the High Border, are one of my favorites that demonstrate their architectural beauty long past flowering. These are easily identified by their large glaucous foliage in the spring. These are followed by strong towering stems topped by scaled fleshy buds, that open to purple thistle-like flowers in high summer. Traditionally grown for the edible stems and flowers, they are now mainly grown for their

I was excited as we then harvested some of the seed heads for a new festive role amongst the garlands and wreaths that decorate the Garden gates. The rigid teasel and fluffy flowers of Cardoons juxtaposing against the evergreen foliage. I realise it is too soon to talk of Christmas and wish away my remaining time. With the start of a new term, I am keen to learn as much as possible in my final year and enjoy once again this stunning time of year.

Staff News

LOTTIE JAMES

A belated welcome to Lottie James who joined the Catering Department as People Manager in June. Lottie will be fundamental in the recruitment of the new catering team for when we reopen the Treasury Building. Lottie has vast experience from her time with VIP Ski where she was the Head of HR and responsible for the recruitment, onboarding and ongoing training for approximately 300 staff. She will be a great asset to our team having employed four key team members already!

CSABA HONS

We are delighted to welcome Csaba Hons as our new Event Manager, who joined the Catering Department on the 2 August. Csaba previously worked at the Law Society and most recently at Christ Church Spitalfields Venue for Graysons where he was the Operations Event Manager. Csaba will be instrumental in the running of our internal and external events, so you will see a lot of him once we reopen our doors.

KIT HAWKINS

Kit joins us as our Event Sales Executive, she will be selling all of our wonderful new and refurbished spaces for 2022. Kit has worked for Billingsgate and Smart Group, so joins us with great knowledge and enthusiasm. Welcome to the team Kit!

REKHA MISTRY

We wish Rekha all the best as she leaves the Garden team for new adventures. Rekha initially started in the Garden as a volunteer back in early 2019, before going on to join the team in the part time position in late summer 2020. Rekha made her mark on the Garden bringing her endless enthusiasm and amongst many, her experienced social media/photography skills. Rekha leaves the Garden due to increased media work which includes Gardeners' World. Those interested in seeing what she does next can follow her at www.instagram.com/rekha.garden.kitchen.

MIKE WILSON

We would like to welcome back Mike Wilson as our Head Chef. When we closed in April 2019, Mike became the Head Chef at the Honourable Artillery Company for 18 months until the pandemic hit. We are thrilled to have Mike back working alongside Executive Chef Dan Broughton as they are going to make an incredibly strong culinary team. Welcome back Mike.

Long Service

Many congratulations to the following member of staff who has completed a significant period of employment at the Inn.

LONDON LEGAL WALK 2021

The London Legal Walk returns in the usual format of a 10k route through central London on Monday 18 October.

A huge thank you to everyone who took on the 2020 London Legal Walk virtually! We look forward to being able to return to seeing you all in person in the autumn in celebration of the legal community supporting access to justice.

We are optimistic for a fun finish and celebration of your achievements with our street party as in previous years. However, we will ensure the current guidelines at the time will be adhered to.

Finish

The walk concludes with a street party on Carey Street with street food vendors, fire jugglers and musicians. We are working hard behind the scenes to develop a safe and socially distanced street party and look forward to welcoming you all at the finish line with a drink in the Knights Templar or Law Society bars.

What is it all for?

We believe in access to justice. Thanks to your participation in events such as the London Legal Walk we are able to support over 100 organisations in London and the South East each year, helping them provide more free and pro bono legal advice.

The Inn's COVID-19 Arrangements

The Inner Temple is fully operational and staff can be contacted by email or phone during office hours.

The Treasury Office at 1 Mitre Court is open daily to visitors between 10am-4pm and our Porters remain on the first floor of 1 Mitre Court or contactable 24/7 on 020 7797 8255.

Estates staff work on site on a rota basis and most office based staff are doing a combination of onsite working and working from home.

We continue to review all our activities in accordance with government guidelines. Our educational, professional and governance activities will be delivered either online or at external venues until Spring 2022.

We recognise this is an anxious time, particularly for those with training requirements and the Inn will provide high quality equivalent learning online. Please note that Call to the Bar ceremonies will be in-person. More information about being called to the Bar can be found here.

We will communicate changes via this webpage, Twitter, Facebook, Instagram and Linkedin. We will also email students regularly. We have specific online support group for this year Bar Course Students, please email qs@innertemple.org.uk to find out more about this support.

The Library is open normal term time hours for access to legal materials and resources in-person. Enquiries by phone or email and our document supply service are also available.
